Arrow Backpack Vacuum Features & Benefits

The padded harness is made for comfort and is easily adjustable to properly fit all body types. The front adjustment keeps the backpack straps on narrow shoulders.

Tools always stay with the operator and are easy to access when needed.

The Arrow back pack has convenient cut-out exhaust ports, allowing the unit to also be used sitting on the floor. The unit has an exhaust filter and sound suppressor for operator comfort.

The on/off switch is conveniently located on the operator's harness. The Arrow also uses a pig tail configuration so that the operator can use the appropriate length cord and never needs to worry that a damaged cord will stop productivity. Just switch out a damaged cord and go.

The Arrow back pack comes standard with all the tools operators need to properly do their job – a 42" 4:1 stretch hose, combo rug-floor tool, crevice tool, upholstery nozzle, dust brush, and telescopic steel wand with button lock. HEPA motor filtration is standard.
