

The Geode design features clean simple shapes with hand made touches. Manufactured in Portugal, a country with a long history of ceramics manufacturing, its rich clay deposits have contributed to the development of tiles that embellish much of the architecture.

The hand-thrown look of Geode continues in this tradition. The soft concentric circles on the interior and the contrasting textured exterior give it an appearance of elegant rusticity.

Originally launched in White, Grey and Black with a sand exterior, the new version in Charcoal adds a new level of sophistication.
