

UNDERCOUNTER CUBE ICE MACHINES

Both of these Scotsman undercounter units produce the uniquely shaped gourmet ice. The gourmet cube is our largest form of ice. It is a slow-melting cube that is perfect for bar use, server stations, office suites and breakrooms.

These units are front breathing, allowing for flexible placement. The CU50 is also designed, engineered and assembled in the USA.

High-volume capacity in a small, compact footprint

Unique, crystal-clear shape, odorless & taste-less

Front breathing vents allow for flexible placement

Energy efficient design: Environmentally friendly while saving operators money
