

BENEFITS OF ADOPTING A MULTI-STREAM WASTE & RECYCLING PROGRAM

Many of today's consumers are seeking ways to improve our environment and are choosing businesses that make this easier for them. These consumers are even willing to pay more for the products or services from businesses that can provide proper trash and recycling systems designed to create an attractive, welcoming environment that is free of litter.

With a multi-stream waste and recycling set-up, businesses can clearly communicate sustainability goals by providing separate containers for different kinds of recyclables as well as compost and trash. Commercial Zone® makes multi-stream easy with a variety of indoor/outdoor containers that can include decals to indicate which materials go in which container. Increase recycling convenience for customers and collection efficiency for businesses by offering multi-stream waste and recycling on your site.

LEED incentives can specify sustainable items as a way for businesses to gain credits like water or energy savings.
