Upcoming Recipe and Label Changes for Prime Roots Products Effective for all orders shipping on or after June 9th

We are excited to announce some updates to our product recipes and labels that will elevate the quality and appeal of Prime Roots products for both taste and marketing. Beginning with all orders shipping on or after June 9th, Prime Roots will only be shipping products with these new recipes and labels. Please note we will not be changing GTINs, and these changes will impact lot codes 025-119 or higher.

Below, we have outlined the key updates and their benefits for your reference and so we can work together to make the necessary changes within your systems.

Recipe Changes

- Minor adjustments to ingredients have been made to further enhance the taste profile and overall quality of our products. Please see the table below for the specific ingredient change details.
- In summary, we've added three new ingredients: Mycoprotein into our protein blend (another type of fungi protein similar to Koji), Baking Soda, and Bamboo Fiber in limited SKUs. We have removed 2 ingredient from all products: sesame oil (non-allergenic) and rice from all our bulk meat recipes.
- Blind taste test results indicate that 50%+ of meat eaters prefer or would switch to Prime Roots over traditional meat with these new recipes.

Label Changes

- Updated product labels, designed to better resonate with consumers, emphasize the health benefits and quality of Prime Roots. Please see Page 3. For the specific visual label changes for each Prime Roots products.
- The new labels have been shown to increase willingness to try and taste perception by up to 30% among consumers.
