Notes & Details

Transport and handle large cuts of raw meat with ease using this Backyard Pro BH-5 Butcher Series 5" T-shaped boning hook with polypropylene handle. At 5" in length with a 1/4" diameter, this hook has the size to penetrate and hold meat while you are carrying it from place to place or as you are carving and quartering it. The point of the hook is hand ground for increased sharpness, ensuring it will pierce even the tougher cuts of meat in your shop.

With the high carbon steel hardened to a spring temper, this hook has the durability and resilience to offer a long service life. It is also fully sealed to the handle for proper sanitation without any cracks or crevices where bacteria could reside. The polypropylene handle is comfortable to hold with a wide design that is easy to grasp and grip while you are working with heavier and larger portions.

This boning hook is the perfect tool for hunters, butcher shops, restaurant kitchens, grocery stores, and other foodservice settings.
