Notes & Details

Conveniently keep your stemmed glassware close at hand at your bar, pub, or night club with this Regency stemware holder. This chrome holder is ideal to attach to the underside of wire shelves to hold wine glasses, cocktail glasses, martini glasses, and more, saving you valuable storage space. Specifically, this stemware holder is designed to fit Regency shelving units that are 14" deep. Glasses slide easily in and out of the opening slot for quick access. This holder securely hangs glasses upside down to prevent any dust, germs, or debris from falling into the bowls of your glasses. You can customize your storage unit by moving and adjusting the stemware holder over and over again to tailor your shelves to your specific needs; this easy removal also makes cleaning your holder a breeze.

This stemware holder's chrome finish adds both style and function to your glass storage. Its durable build is perfect for use in dry environments, and its shiny exterior adds a simple, sleek appearance. This versatile stemware holder will benefit your establishment whether you use it in the front or back of the house. When used behind a bar, it provides easy access to frequently used glasses during busy times. In the back of the house, it provides efficient, space-saving storage for your glassware within your Regency shelving unit. This holder adds a vintage touch to your establishment, and its small size creates an intimate setting. Its sleek chrome finish complements virtually any upscale or elegant decor. Whether you need a place to store your glasses behind the bar or on your Regency shelves, this stemware holder is a perfect fit!
