WebstaurantStore Opens Largest Distribution Center in Hagerstown, Maryland

Hagerstown, MD. — WebstaurantStore celebrated the grand opening of its newest distribution center in December, marking a major milestone with the launch of its largest facility to date.

Located at 210 Breaker Drive in Hagerstown, Maryland, the new distribution center spans 1.2 million square feet and features over seven miles of conveyor systems, making it the largest distribution center in WebstaurantStore's network. The facility is WebstaurantStore's fourth distribution center in Maryland and strengthens the company's ability to efficiently serve customers across the eastern United States and beyond.

More than 150 employees currently work at the Hagerstown facility, with plans to hire at least 100 additional employees throughout the coming year. The expansion reflects WebstaurantStore's continued investment in automation, infrastructure, and workforce development to meet growing customer demand.

"After more than two years of preparation, we're excited to finally open and launch shipping operations at our Hagerstown facility," said Jeremy Jennings, General Manager. "This launch was made possible by the efforts of multiple teams across our company, and we're proud to add this facility to our Northeast network as we begin serving our customers. We're honored to have this facility in the city of Hagerstown and look forward to becoming an employer of choice in the community."

The grand opening celebration in December brought together employees, community members, and local leaders to recognize the economic and operational impact of the new distribution center. As the team continues to grow, the facility is expected to support future community engagement through employment opportunities and local involvement.
